PRELIMINARY TRIAL IS CONCLUDED

Carson Gregory and James Cothrin, Suspected of Being Connected With the Death of T. E. George, are Discharged by Trial Justice

No trial has ever excited as much interest in Tazewell as that of Carson Gregory and James Cothrin, who were arrested some three weeks ago upon a charge of having been connected with the mysterious death of the late T. E. George.

According to the agreement made a week previous, the trial was begun on last Saturday, the 23rd inst. Commonwealth's Attorney T. C. Bowen, assisted by R. R. Henry, A. P. Gillespie and Barnes Gillespie, represented the Commonwealth, while the prisoners had for their counsel Judge R. C. McLaugherty and Mr. York Coleman, of Bluefield. The trial occupied three days, that is Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

A number of witnesses were introduced by the Commonwealth, for the purpose of not only proving the corpus delicti, but to show that the murder theory was the correct one and that the prisoners, by their proximity to the scene of the tragedy and their subsequent conduct, were connected in some way with the murder. Nearly the entire three days were consumed in the examination of these witnesses; and not until Tuesday afternoon were any witnesses placed upon the stand by the defense.

After introducing three witnesses, Judge McLaugherty announced that they rested their case. The counsel for the Commonwealth were disposed to argue the case but, when the justice announced that he would not give each side but one hour, those representing the prosecution concluded that they could not argue it properly in that time; and it was agreed that the court should take and decide the case without argument. H. G. Peery, who was the trial justice, promptly decided that enough evidence had not been presented to warrant him in holding and sending the accused on for indictment by a grand jury.

In giving his opinion in the case the justice took occasion to say that nothing had been developed by the hearing he supposed to change the opinion of those who had held opposite views as to suicide or murder; but we are of the opinion that while, perhaps, enough was not shown to alter the views of those who had believed in suicide, the evidence was sufficient to greatly strengthen the convictions of those who believe that Mr. George was foully murdered. For the present the case remains one of the most mysterious that has been known in this country, but time, no doubt, will furnish a solution.

DEATH OF REV. STEPHEN DAVIS.

The Faithful Pastor of the Christian Church at This Place Victim of Pneumonia.

On yesterday, Wednesday, afternoon at three o'clock Rev. Stephen Davis, pastor of the Christian church at Tazewell, died, after an illness of about ten days, at the residence of Mr. T. Blair Hankins. The news of his serious illness had been heard of with profound regret by his many friends in town, and his death brought sincere grief to many hearts.

The deceased came to Tazewell less than two years ago and entered upon his first pastorate work here. His zeal and devotion to the noble work to which he had given his life won the sympathy and love of all those with whom he became intimately associated and the respect of all who knew him. He was born at Bently, Ill., on October 9th, 1875, and he was, therefore, a few months over thirty-one years old when death came to remove him from the great work for which he had given ten years of preparation in his early manhood.

REV. STEPHEN DAVIS

The deceased was a graduate of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, of Canton College, Missouri, and of Yale College Divinity School, Class of 1905. His ministry here had been eminently useful to the congregation he served and to the entire community. He is survived by a venerable father, by three brothers: Jethro Davis, M. D., of Raritan, Ill.; Freeman Davis, Dentist, Moulton, Iowa; and Loyd Davis, Dentist, Nauvoo, Ill.; and by two sisters, Mrs. C. G. Glaze, Fairmount, Okla., and Mrs. B. B. Bray, Burnside, Ill. Drs. Jethro and Loyd Davis were both here with their brother when the dread messenger made his final call.

Today at 11:30 a. m. funeral services were held at the Christian church, conducted by Rev. J. N. Harman, assisted by the other ministers of the town, and which were attended by a large crowd of sorrowing friends. The remains were then taken to the station and started on the 1:30 p. m. train for Burnside, Ill., where the burial will take place on the 3rd of March.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father, in His infinite goodness and mercy, to take to Himself, after much suffering, one of the faithful and devoted members of the Cedar Bluff Sunday school, Armon Brown; therefore, be it Resolved, 1. That in the death of this brave, noble young man, we, as a Sunday school and as a community, have sustained a loss that can never be expressed, and the influence of his life will ever be a precious memory to strengthen and help us both as a Sunday school and as individuals.

2. That we bow in humble submission to the will of Him whose ways are mysterious, whose love surpasseth understanding, who doeth all things well.

3. That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

4. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy be spread upon the Sunday school record, and a copy be published in the Tazewell Republican and in the Clinch Valley News.

Pounding Mill Items.

Pounding Mill, Va., Feb. 26th, '07. The fine residence and out buildings belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hurt burned down on last Friday afternoon, between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock. It is unknown how the fire originated as it was first discovered in the garret over the dining room, by Miss Helen Repass, niece of Mr. Hurt, who is teaching, on her return from her school, the upstairs being full of smoke. The fire was under such headway that it was impossible to extinguish it. They saved everything on the first floors, also their meat. There was an insurance of $2,000. on the house and $500. on the furniture. The loss was heavy as the bedrooms were mostly up stairs, also clothing, canned fruit etc. The house could scarcely be replaced now for $4,000. as lumber is much higher than when the house was built a few years ago. The family, except the twins, Mary and Katie, are at the home of Mrs. Hurt's brother, Mr. R. K. Gillespie. Mary and Katie are at their aunt's, Mrs. M. E. McGuire at Cedar Bluff. Everybody sympathizes greatly with Mr. and Mrs. Hurt, and many worked heroically to help save their furniture. Miss Mary Belton, of Cedar Bluff, who was helping in the home, lost everything except a shirt waist or two. Her loss was probably $50.00, and great to her. We hope, however, that her friends will not forget the adage "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Mrs. Geo. Thomas was called to the bed side of her second son, Mercer, who is very ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Smith, near Fugate's sawmill. Cause of sickness, looked or paralyzed bowels, later symptoms of typhoid fever. He is reported as very little better. He is about 19 years of age. Everyone is very sorry to hear of this affliction as he is a very nice youth.

Miss Pearl McGuire, of Cedar Bluff, visited her niece, Miss Uva Steele, on last Saturday night and Sunday. Miss Cassie Laird visited homefolks at Tazewell from Friday to Sunday.

ALL PASSENGERS ESCAPE DEATH BY MIRACLE

Chicago Flyer Jumps Track, Slides Down Embankment Into River and Turns Over—Only One Seriously Hurt

ALL ON TRAIN, HOWEVER, MORE OR LESS INJURED

Johnstown, Pa., Feb. 23.—The Pennsylvania Special, the famous eighteen-hour New York-Chicago train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was wrecked at Mineral Point, seven miles east of here, last night about midnight.

None of the passengers were killed and but one, John P. Kline, of Joliet, Illinois, probably fatally injured.

Practically all the fifty-four passengers on the train were more or less hurt. Ten injured were taken to the Altoona hospital. The others were able to continue their journey.

The escape of the occupants of the train from death were little short of miraculous.

The train was running at the high speed of more than fifty miles an hour when the last three cars of the train, Pullman sleepers, suddenly left the rails.

They turned over twice and then slid down the sixty foot embankment into the Conemaugh river.

The cars went through the heavy ice. There was little water in the river. There was no danger of drowning.

The wreck, it is thought, was caused by the dropping of the brake iron on the first sleeper following the locomotive and combination car.

The rigging lodged under a tie, derailing the following cars.

The locomotive and combination car remained on the track.

Relief trains were at once despatched from Johnstown, Altoona and Pittsburgh. Eight injured were taken to the Altoona hospital, four more were sent to Pittsburgh and taken to the Allegheny General Hospital.

The other passengers, in insufficient clothing and shivering, many with nothing to cover them but blankets and bed clothing, were also sent to Pittsburgh.

The railroad supplied them with food and medical attendance and sent them on west on a special train which left Pittsburgh at 10 o'clock today.

Shortly after the relief passenger train left Mineral Point for Pittsburgh a praise service was held in the coaches. The Rev. Edgar Cope, pastor of the Saint Simon Protestant Episcopal church, Philadelphia, made a short address, and led in prayer.

"Let us thank God," he said, "that every man, woman and child on that ill-fated train escaped death."

Of the thirty injured passengers who went west in the special train four were taken to a Pittsburgh hospital, seriously but not fatally injured.

John P. Kline, in the Altoona hospital, is reported to be dying.
